CBI MEMBER SPOTLIGHT

Scott Silverman

The Mayor of San Diego and the U.S. Congress have recognized his long-time commitment to our community. A fortune 500 executive has called him "a visionary." The San Diego Jewish Journal featured him in a recent issue. Last year alone he improved the lives of 9,500 people. Scott Silverman is a man on a mission – and a long-time, proud member of CBI.

Scott is the founder and executive director of Second Chance, a non-profit organization that provides job readiness training, employment placement, affordable housing and life skills to homeless and unemployed individuals who desire to change their lives.

After becoming clean and sober himself in the early '80s, Scott began volunteering at CBI's Hunger Project. Starting a business managing properties in some of the toughest neighborhoods in San Diego, Scott found himself negotiating with drug dealers and gangs to reclaim the complexes he represented. He got to know the area residents and began helping them to get and keep jobs. In 1993 he decided to devote himself to this work full time and started Second Chance. Thirteen years later Scott is as devoted as ever to making a difference for those who really need it.

Scott grew up in our congregation, going through religious school, Bar Mitzvah and confirmation classes. He and his wife, Michelle and their two children are active both here at CBI and in the Jewish community. We salute Scott's great work and the example of tikkun olam that he sets for all of us.
